Hi [Manager's Name],

I'm reaching out to explore an opportunity for executive coaching as part of my professional development at [Company Name].

I've been researching ways to enhance my leadership skills, decision-making, and strategic impact at work, and I believe coaching would be a valuable investment for both my growth and the company's success. Many organizations sponsor coaching under leadership development or professional training budgets, and I'd love to explore if this is an option for me.

The program I'm considering is Elevate by Ashley R., a 3-month executive coaching experience designed for high-achieving professionals. It focuses on:

✔ Enhancing leadership skills – Improving communication, stakeholder management, and team performance.
✔ Strategic career development – Strengthening decision-making and executive presence to drive business impact.
✔ Business outcomes – Aligning personal growth with company priorities, increasing effectiveness as a leader.

Investment & Logistics:

- Duration: 3 months (biweekly 1:1 coaching sessions)
- Cost: $3,195 (eligible for professional development reimbursement)
- Format: Virtual coaching (with ongoing support and resources)
- Payment Options: Company credit card, vendor invoice, or reimbursement

Would you be open to discussing how this could fit within [Company Name]'s leadership development initiatives? I'd be happy to share more details or set up a quick conversation to discuss how coaching can directly support my role and our team's objectives.

Looking forward to your thoughts!

Best,
[Your Name]
